Emergency Repatriation Center — RCMFSS Program

Global Logistics & Emergency Response Powered by AI · Mission-Focused. Human-Centered.

Behavioral Health Specialist

On call | Deploy anywhere in the United States

ResponseAI is seeking experienced Behavioral Health Specialists to provide screenings, short-term crisis interventions, and referrals at emergency sites, and advise operational leadership on behavioral health considerations.

Education: Master's degree in Social Work, Counseling, Psychology, Marriage and Family Therapy, or a related behavioral health discipline.

Experience: 5+ years providing behavioral health, crisis intervention, or trauma support services in emergency human services, humanitarian response, or comparable crisis environments involving individuals and families affected by emergencies or disasters.

Responsibilities & Required Skills

- Conduct behavioral health assessments and determine appropriate interventions in emergency or crisis environments.
- Provide crisis counseling, stabilization, psychological support, and brief therapeutic interventions for acute stress, trauma, grief, and behavioral health crises.
- Recognize and respond to suicide risk, self-harm, interpersonal violence, substance use concerns, and other behavioral health emergencies within scope of practice.
- Integrate behavioral health with reception, reunification, case management, child and family services, and access and functional needs support.
- Consult with operational leadership on behavioral health issues affecting individuals, families, staff, and mission operations; support responder resilience and recognize secondary traumatic stress, compassion fatigue, and burnout.
- Coordinate referrals and continuity of care with behavioral health providers, crisis services, hospitals, community organizations, and other healthcare resources.
- Apply trauma-informed care, Psychological First Aid, cultural humility, grief and loss knowledge, disaster behavioral health principles, and resilience strategies.
- Maintain clinical documentation and protect confidential health information under applicable federal and state privacy requirements; demonstrate strong analytical, communication, de-escalation, and multidisciplinary collaboration skills.
- Demonstrate proficiency in Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint, and Teams.
